FINE ART AUCTIONEER AND APPRAISER

Hugh is Vice President of Maynards Antique and Fine Arts based in Richmond B.C.

After studying law in London England he was lured into the world of auctions in one of the city's premier auction houses. A career spanning fifteen years started in the ceramics department surrounded by Ming vases and led to adventures in Britain's stately homes, sales of chattels of all kinds from fine wine to Vulcan bombers, and a seat on the board of directors.

A move to Maynards in the late 90s brought with it an opportunity to join both the U.S and Canadian television Antiques Road Shows together with a seat on the board of the Museum of Vancouver.

Vancouver has produced some surprises including the sale of the contents of a castle, a collection of 1,000 firearms, rare jades and even a Faberge cigarette box at a quarter of a million dollars.
